DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

2. Claims 3 and 5-16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by U.S. Patent No. 6,419,658 to Restelli.

Regarding claims 3 and 5-16, Restelli teaches the invention substantially as claimed including a syringe retraction arrangement adapted to automatically retract a syringe into a container upon full depression of a plunger of the syringe into the syringe thereby avoiding the potential for needle stick injuries, wherein the syringe is resiliently biased to retract into the container and has a retaining arrangement to prevent it from retracting and has release means for the retaining arrangement which are engaged upon complete depression of the plunger to operate the release means. Restelli discloses a Syringe including a sleeve assembly and syringe, having a barrel and plunger, a pair of ears, a needle, a guide arrangement of plastic molding or a two piece component, a spring, a detent and recess, of two separate components, further including a cap. The Restelli device works in the same manner as the instant application. (see column 2 line 66 - column 4 lines 40 and figure 1). Restelli further teaches wherein the plunger flange engages with the ears to separate and spread them apart on insertion of the plunger into the syringe barrel (see marked-up figure below).

Response to Arguments

3. Applicant's arguments filed 06/08/2007 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

Regarding the plunger flange, it is seen in the marked-up figure above that the plunger arm does indeed terminate in a plunger flange. This is sufficient within the broadest reasonable interpretation of the claims.

Conclusion

4. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
